PyTrail

Learn Python step by step, right in the browser.

Role	Category	Live on	Status
Product Owner	Education / Developer Tools	Web, Android, Windows	Live

Overview

A Python learning product with bite-sized lessons, quizzes, a built-in compiler, and runnable example programs on the web and desktop.

Target users

Students and exam aspirants who need focused, low-friction practice they can return to daily.

My role

Product Owner and independent product builder.

The user problem

Beginners lose momentum when learning requires installing tools before writing a first program.

Key product decisions

Combine short lessons, instant quizzes, and an in-browser compiler so learners start coding in under a minute.

1	132 topic-wise lessons
2	Quizzes and progress tracking
3	In-browser Python compiler
4	115+ runnable example programs

Trade-off

Prioritised depth of practice over social and gamified extras so the core learning loop stayed fast.

Verified outcomes

Published product website with the product experience and availability details.
